

Not only should localism rules be rolled back, but so should media consolidation too. We should not, in this free contry, have a biased media. Currently only eight companies own the corporate media. Years ago , it was at least forty companies.